Gender Sensitive Parliaments: A framework for advancing the equalities agenda in the European Parliament

30 January 2019
European Parliament, Brussels
At 16.30-18.30
Room: A5E-3

European Research Council
Established by the European Commission

A seminar organised by the European Research Council (ERC) funded research project EUGenDem (University of Tampere, Finland) with MEP Sirpa Pietikäinen (EPP)

“A gender sensitive parliament responds to the needs and interests of both women and men and remove the barriers to women’s full participation and offer a positive example or model to society at large.” Is the European Parliament gender-sensitive? If not, how can it be changed? This seminar brings leading academic experts into a dialogue with the European Parliament around the notion of gender sensitive parliaments.

Opening: Representative of the European Parliament and Prof. Johanna Kantola (Tampere University)

Keynote Speakers: Prof. Sarah Childs, University of London; Dr. Josefina Erikson, Uppsala University; Senior Policy Advisor Essa Reijmers, European Women’s Lobby

Roundtable: Towards a gender sensitive European Parliament

Chair: Professor Johanna Kantola, University of Tampere, Finland

Participants: Zita Gurmai (PES-Women, Chair); Zeina Hilal (Interparliamentary Union, IPU); Sirpa Pietikäinen (MEP, EPP); Jeanne Ponte (Founder of the #MeTooEP campaign)
